Professors, Forest Service
Employees to Speak at Forest
Symposium

MISSOULA--

University professors and U.S. Forest Service employees will be among those presenting papers and leading discussions, open to the public, Thursday (Sept. 19) during the symposium, "Coniferous Forests of the Northern Rocky Mountains" being held at the University of Montana Sept. 18-20.

Objectives of the program include a review and synthesis of present knowledge concerning the coniferous (cone-bearing) forests of the Northern Rocky Mountains, the indication of areas needing further study and the integration of the many diverse points of view from which these forests may be observed by man.

Edward S. Kotok will serve as moderator of the Thursday morning program. Dr. J.H.G. Smith of the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, Canada, will discuss "Wood--The Influence of Man Upon Productivity Within the Coniferous Forests of the Northern Rocky Mountains" from 9 to 9:50 a.m.

Dr. Lee Eddleman, UM assistant professor of forestry, and Alistair McLean, Range Research Station, Kamloops, B.C., will discuss "Herbage--Its Production and Use Within the Coniferous Forest" from 9:50 to 10:40 a.m.

-----PARAGRAPH AT BOTTOM OF PAGE TWO TO BE INSERTED HERE-----
Dr. Robert C. Lucas will moderate the afternoon program, which begins with a discussion entitled "Salmonids: An Aquatic Product of the Forest Environment" by Dr. Craig MacPhee of the University of Idaho, Moscow, from 1 to 1:50 p.m.

John Stelfox of the Canadian Wildlife Service, Edmonton, Alta., and Dr. R.D. Taber, UM professor of forestry, will discuss "The Use of Wild Animals in the Northern Rocky Mountain Coniferous Forest" from 1:50 to 2:40 p.m.

Dr. J. Alan Wagar of the U.S. Forest Service, Seattle, Wash., will discuss "Nonconsumptive Uses of the Coniferous Forest, with Special Relation to the Consumptive Uses" from 3 to 3:50 p.m. Thursday.

Symposium participants will hear Dr. Carling Malouf, UM professor of anthropology, at a banquet Thursday night at 7 p.m. in the UM Lodge Territorial Rooms. Dr. Malouf will speak on "The Coniferous Forests and Their Uses in the Northern Rocky Mountains Through 6,000 Years of Prehistory." The public is invited to attend the banquet and the lecture. Tickets may be obtained by calling the UM Food Service at 243-4332.
